Jesse savors moral victory

SAN FRANCISCO — See? There was no reason to worry about Jesse Jackson after all. The Democratic worrywarts who feared that he would somehow throw the joint up for grabs can now relax and resume their long journey toward defeat.

He didn't walk out or insult anybody or do anything else rash. Instead, he made a vintage Jackson speech — too long, too loud and too wordy — that had delegates bawling, hugging, kissing, dancing, swinging, swaying and everything short of breakdancing in the aisles.

Jackson's performance wasn't a surprise to those of us who have watched him in Chicago for years. We know that while he can be a pain in the neck, there are three things he isn't: (1) dumb, (2) radical or (3) self-destructive.

And he would have been all three if he had done anything but play Mr. Nice Guy, filled with love for his fellow Democrats, his alleged rainbow crowd, the downtrodden of the world, and just about everybody else in the universe except Ronald Reagan. Throw in the it-takes-a-big-man-to-admit-his-mistakes factor, and Jackson's speech achieved exactly what he set out to do the day he announced that he was running for president.

Part of the mainstream

His goal was to be up on that stage as one of the stars of the convention, accepted, admired, part of the mainstream of Democratic politics — with his very own power-base. Despite some stumbles, he did it. And even those of us who occasionally tweak him for silliness have to give him credit.

Remember, it wasn't too long ago that Jackson was facing a potentially terrible, frightening fate — being ignored.

That was when Harold Washington was elected mayor. Suddenly Jackson had lost his power-base, which was Chicago's black community. They might still like him, but he was no longer the No. 1 black hero in that city. Mayor Washington was.

And he could no longer intimidate a Chicago mayor with the accusation that he or she is a racist. If he ever said that about Harold — who didn't care much for Jesse in the first place — they would have thrown a

I'll run church from jail – Moon

New York Daily News

NEW YORK — The Rev. Sun Myung Moon, on the eve of the start of an 18-month prison term for tax evasion, said yesterday that he would run his world-wide Unification Church from behind bars at the U.S. federal prison at Danbury, Conn.

A church leader said the 64-year-old Korean evangelist will surrender sometime today to prison officials but that lawyers will continue a

IN MEMORIAM

HAMER, Fred. In loving memory of a dear father, grandfather and great-grandfather who passed away July 20, 1979.
Sadly missed, the family.

HAMER, Fred. In loving memory of a brother-in-law and friend who passed away five years ago today.
Like falling leaves, the years go by,
But memories of you will never die,
Sadly missed, Ron, May and Wayne.

HAMILTON, Helen. Cherished memories of a dear mother, mother-in-law, and grandmother who passed away four years ago today.
I often sit and think of you
The things you used to say and do.
I wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say good-bye
To those who have a mother
Cherish her with love and care
For there will be a time
When she will no longer be there.
Cherishing your memory always, your daughter Joan, son-in-law Michael, grandchildren Carolyn, Michael and Pamela.

HAMILTON, Helen. In loving memory of a dear mother, mother-in-law and grandmother who passed away July 20, 1980.
We did not see you close your eyes,
Nor did we hear you sigh,
We only heard that you were gone,
Without a last goodbye.
Death comes sometimes to let us know,
We love more dearly than we show.
For love in death, let us all see,
What love in life should always be.
Missing you and loving you always, your son John, daughter-in-law Judy, grandchildren Maureen, Karen, Brenda and Danny.

HAMILTON, Helen. In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother who passed away July 20, 1980.
Each day that goes by,
We remember the time
We spent together,
We will always remember,
Because love lasts forever.
Always remembered by your daughter Carol and two granddaughters Darlene and Tracy.

HAMILTON, Helen. In loving memory of a dear mother, mother-in-law and grandmother who passed

IN MEMORIAM

McGURNAGHAN, Patrick Jr. In loving memory of a dear uncle and brother who passed away twelve years ago today.
Time may heal the broken heart,
Time may make the wound less sore,
But time can never stop the longing,
For the love one gone before.
R.I.P.
Niece D.S., sister Sue.

McGURNAGHAN, Patrick Jr. In memory of a loving brother who passed away July 20, 1972.
Gone but not forgotten.
Your sister Bea.

NEWMAN, Leonard. In loving memory of a dear father-in-law who passed away July 20, 1978.
"Memories will always last".
Always remembered Nellie.

NOSKOVITZ, Rebecca. Beloved mother and grandmother, may she rest.
Gone but not forgotten in our tears. Her daughter Brenda, and granddaughter Randi.

QUINN, Kathleen Lena. In loving memory of a dear sister, who passed away July 20, 1983. Always remembered by her sister Frances.

RODGERS, John. In loving memory of a dear father, father-in-law and grandfather who passed away three years ago July 20, 1981.
He troubled noone;
His wants were few,
And now dear Lord,
He has come to you.
Take good care of him,
For the one you have taken,
Was one of the best.
So sadly missed by your son Denis, Linda, Manon and Bobby.

STARNES, Andrew. In loving memory of a dear father who passed away on July 20, 1978.
I think of you in silence,
And often speak your name
But all I have are memories,
And your picture in a frame
Sadly missed by your son and daughter-in-law Alan and MaRita.

STEWART, Todd (Teddy). In loving memory of our darling son who passed away July 20, 1972, aged seven years.
We had your love
